

BIO 110 : MEDICAL TERMINOLOGY

An introduction to medical terminology through the study of the human body systems. The course begins with building medical terms from roots, prefixes, suffixes and combining forms and then progresses into relating these terms to the human body system. Each body system lesson includes terms for anatomy, physiology, pathology, diagnosis, medical procedures, pharmacology and abbreviations. Not accepted for Biology major or minor credit.

3.000

Biology

Elective credit.