

MIL 201 : LEADERSHIP AND DECISION MAKING

This basic course introduces Cadets to the Army Learning Area of Adaptability. The course outcomes are produced through Critical and Creative Thinking, and the ability to apply Troop Leading Procedures with innovative solutions to problems. The concept of the Army as a Profession is taught through leadership forums and self-assessment. Students are required to apply their knowledge outside the classroom in a hands-on, performance-oriented environment during optional Leadership Lab exercises and Field Training exercises. Cadets also learn how resiliency and fitness supports their development as an Army leader.
