

CHM 311 : ENVIRONMENTAL CHEMISTRY

A study of the chemical substances that are major causes of pollution in our environment and of the techniques used to detect their presence and/or prevent their release into the environment. Lecture and laboratory format. Lab fee. Offered periodically during the Jan term.

4.000

CHM 251 with a grade of C- or higher

Chemistry

CHM 251

major, elective