

PHI 180 : PROBLEMS OF PHILOSOPHY

This course introduces students to particular debates, issues, and methodologies in philosophy, such as the nature of knowledge, the relationship between the mind and the body, personal identity, free will human nature, or the principles of ethical responsibility and action.

3.000

Philosophy

GEP, Major, Minor, Elective credit.