

SED 393 : SIMULTANEOUS SIGNED/SPOKEN COMMUNICATION

This course emphasizes the development of receptive and expressive communication skills using conceptually-accurate sign language and finger spelling in English word order. Various simultaneous signed/spoken communication systems used in the educational setting will be covered. The course, which includes a five-hour clinical, is appropriate as an elective for any major. Offered Spring Term.

3.000

SED 385.

Special Education

Major, Elective credit.