

ART 311 : ART FOR THE CHILD

The purpose of this course is to examine the basic concepts and principles of art as they relate to a child's creative and mental growth. Students will study the materials and methods for teaching art to children and strategies for integrating art into other content areas to support creative and critical thinking. This course is not open to Art Education majors who must take the advanced courses Art for the Elementary School and Art for the Elementary School Clinical. Lab Fee.

3.000

Department of Art, Design, and Letters

Required for some Education majors.