

THR 120 : PUBLIC SPEAKING

Through observation, analysis and practice this course explores the processes and techniques of effective oral communication. Emphasis will be placed on gathering and organizing material, critical thinking, effective listening, successful vocal delivery, as well as practicing a variety of public speaking situations including impromptu and planned speeches.

3.000

Theatre

Elective credit.