

THR 350 : DIRECTING

This course explores leadership in theatrical productions and the skills required in contemporary directing practice. Student laboratory work will consist of solving directorial challenges and working with student artists in the creation of scenes. Students will also practice skills in script analysis, stage composition, actor coaching, communication, and collaboration.

3.000

Theatre and Musical Theatre majors only or permission of instructor.

Theatre

Major, Minor credit.