

MTY 341 : PSYCHOLOGY OF MUSIC

This course surveys the research literature and principles of the psychological foundations of music behavior including psychoacoustics, music perception, affective and physiological responses to music, music learning and measurement. Class evaluations will be based on reviews of journal articles, oral presentations, and chapter tests.

3.000

Basic Statistics recommended; open to non-majors.

Music Therapy