

HST 303: STUDY TRAVEL

The educational experience of a lifetime! A course on a special historical topic with an exciting travel component. See firsthand the places where history happened. HST 303 courses will introduce the methods of inquiry, analysis, and interpretation used in the discipline of history. If the topic is different, the course may be taken more than once. Depending on the topic, the course may also satisfy the Non-European, Non-Anglophone North America GEP requirement and/or Women's College designation.
